Report of the day:

International Day of Women and Girls in Science: The event's main theme is to focus on the reality that science and gender equality are both vital for the achievement of internationally agreed development goals, including the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development.

Women and girls play a critical role in science and technology communities and that their participation should be strengthened. A significant gender gap has persisted throughout the years at all levels of science, technology, engineering and mathematics(STEM) disciplines all over the world. Even though women have made tremendous progress towards increasing their participation in higher education, they are still under-represented in these fields.

Gender equality has always been a core issue for the United Nations. Gender equality and the empowerment of women and girls will make a crucial contribution for economic development of the women.
